

The Chukgrip is a multi-positional, ergonomically correct pole handle. Works wonderfully for hiking, walking, cross-country skiing, mountain climbing and snowshoeing. It is so universal it can also be used as a cane or a rifle pod.

What are the advantages of using the ChukGrip?

- Ergonomically correct; Proper positioning of hand and wrist in relation to the poling stroke.
- The multi-positional feature enables users, to use different sets of upper body muscles while using Chukgrips , adding to overall endurance and power.
- The comfortable shaped main grip is angled to enable the user to keep the pole in close to the body, increasing the power and efficiency of each pole plant.
